

London to Cape Town in Record Time

Wynn's sponsored a successful World Record attempt. The Max Adventure Team of Mac Mackenney, Chris Rawlings & Steve Mackenney travelled from London to Cape Town covering 10,000 miles, through 21 countries breaking the current record of 13 days, 8 hours & 48 minutes set in 1963 by Eric Jackson & Ken Chambers. The new record now stands at:

11 days, 14 hours & 11 minutes.

The record attempt was supported by well known patrons including Sir Randolph Fines OBE & Sir Stirling Moss OBE, and also raised money for the 'Help for Hero's' charity.

The team drove a Land Rover Discovery 2 which was protected by several Wynn's products.

Enjoying the scenery in Kenya

HELP for HEROES

Support For Our Wounded

"Having the Wynn's products with us meant total peace of mind and at no time did we worry about faulty components stopping us" - Mac Mackenney.

Cape Town !!!

To read more about the record attempt including some great blogs from Mac and his team visit www.maxadventure.co.uk

